KK Wellness Consulting Helps Therapy Horse Live Its Best Life

WILLIAMSBURG, Virginia – Tater the therapy horse has extra pep in his step thanks to a new sponsorship by KK Wellness Consulting (KKW). Kelly Killen, Licensed Behavior Analyst and Certified Wellness Coach and owner of KKW is the newest area philanthropist to support Dream Catchers at the Cori Sikich Therapeutic Riding Center.

Hampton Roads-based KK Wellness Consulting helps clients by providing a long-term, highly personalized weight loss solution using services specifically focused on behavior modification and nutrition. Utilizing scientifically based behavioral principles to achieve health and wellness goals, the integrated lifestyle adjustments continue transforming the lives of hundreds of people. Whether someone is taking their first step in leading a healthy life or they are an elite athlete, KKW's health professionals meet them where they are on their journey to long-term results.

Their sponsorship gift underwrites the feed, hay, supplements, some tack, daily care, farrier fees and veterinarian wellness plan for one of Dream Catchers' most charismatic horses. KKW's logo is featured on Tater's saddle pad and halter. He dons his logoed gear while participating in equine-assisted activities with the nonprofit's participants as well as when he travels offsite for demonstrations and media appearances.

Kelly Killen's husband, Rob, and his Chesapeake-based business Orangetheory, sponsored Tater prior to KKW taking over the reins. Killen and her KKW team of certified wellness professionals, shown here, provide both onsite and virtual services to clients worldwide depending on their location.

"Like Dream Catchers, KK Wellness Consulting delivers life-changing experiences to people throughout the Hampton Roads community and even beyond," says Janet Mayberry, executive director of Dream Catchers. "We are excited Kelly Killen and her KKW professionals have chosen to support Tater and the Dream Catchers family.
